WORK, CHILD SUPPORT & FAMILY BENEFITS EMPHASIZED

Vaughan heads county's JOBS Program

By Ferrin Cox
Publisher

JOBS - is a federally funded program designed "to emphasize work, child support, and family benefits."

Glen Vaughan, with the Coffee County Department of Human Resources (DHR), is the JOBS Coordinator for Coffee County.

All people receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children program (AFDC) are required to participate if they continue receiving the financial help. There are certain exemptions to this requirement, cutting the potential involvement in Alabama to about 25,000 or 40% of those presently receiving the government aid. Gradually the participation percentage will increase with new qualified participants being identified earlier in the cycle.

Coffee County has about 350 families receiving AFDC and food stamps, according to Vaughan.

He explained that those receiving this AFDC assistance are mostly women, and over half of them don't have a high school education. Vaughan's office will do an assessment of education, skills, work experience and potential barriers to participation.

The JOBS program will assist them in getting their high school diploma or GED certificate and pay for their children to stay in a day care center while they are in school. They will also arrange transportation and for donations of clothing for the mother and the children if they need this to venture back into society.

Other mothers will be given job skills training in vocational and technical schools and the Job Training Program.

The Department of Human Resources staff will work to locate participants and secure interviews for participants.

The participants can also be placed in public jobs for a limited time, with funding through the JOBS program. Institutions such as schools, hospitals and other non-profit agencies can be used to give these participants work experience and work references.

That 40% in the targeted group - mostly mothers age 35 and under, will be required to participate. Even those legally exempt under the guidelines will be encouraged to join the program.

The penalty for not participating could be a partial or complete cut of all welfare benefits.

Vaughan explained it would be a gradual cutting, with either aid or food stamps being curtailed. Complete refusal to participate could lead to complete disqualification from the AFDC program and the food stamp program for up to six months.

The local DHR has statewide computer access to AFDC records of all 67 counties in Alabama. By year-end nationwide access will prevent recipients from moving somewhere else and avoiding the JOBS program while still getting their monies.

Vaughan noted the program started in 11 counties in 1990 and will be fully operational statewide by September 1992.

He admitted the first counties implementing the program have had some participants who refused to take part. These people either got jobs on their own or gave up their food stamps and aid to dependent children. Others have resisted but joined when they actually began getting less government aid.

WILL SERVE AS PERSIAN GULF WAR MEMORIAL

Museum to honor Alabama National Guard

by Marvin McLwain

Persian Gulf War. Southern Alabama, especially Elba, became more familiar with the Guard and its importance not only in time of war, but in peacetime as well.

In March of 1990, monsoon like rains hit the region causing severe flooding, displacing hundreds of families and millions of dollars in damage. At the request of Governor Guy Hunt, elements of the Alabama National Guard were mobilized to assist in the massive clean-up operations in Elba and other area towns.

The Guard provided shelter to families displaced by the flooding, cleared highways and streets of debris, and provided security. At the height of the relief operations, more than 500 Alabama Guard members were on duty helping fellow Alabamians recover from the disaster. Guard personnel were also mobilized to assist Huntsville city and county authorities when a tornado hit that area killing 18 and injuring 468.

Alabama Army and Air Guard members were actively involved in relief efforts on St. Croix in the Virgin Islands following the deadly onslaught of Hurricane Hugo.

APPROXIMATELY $150,000 TO $160,000 STILL OWED ON PROPERTY

City looking for ways to utilize old school property

by Marvin McLwain
Editor

It has taken two years, but the City of Elba now officially owns all of the old school property and buildings downtown. Now the question before the city fathers is what do we do with it.

On March 16, 1992, the Alabama State Board of Education gave its approval to the local board to sell the property to be decided by the city.

The land was all surveyed and all descriptions were verified as being accurate and up-to-date. The deeds were prepared and signed on March 26, 1992.

Monday morning, Elba Mayor Fred Moore talked about several possible uses or ways in which the city could utilize the property and buildings.

Mayor Moore said that a couple of the buildings will certainly have to be completely demolished. The Elba Middle School building and the Vocational building will both be torn down.

The mayor said that the possibility of finding a contractor who will tear down the buildings for the materials - steel beams, etc. - is being looked into by the city.

"It is hoped that the old high school building can be renovated and be used as a civic center for the City of Elba," said Moore.

"The auditorium had a slanted wood floor that was ruined by flood waters and would have to be torn out, but it could be replaced with a

"It is not necessary that the floor be slanted - it could be level."

He stated that many of the old classrooms in the building could be renovated and utilized by the different civic organizations and clubs within the city. They could be used as meeting places and the organizations could share in the responsibility of taking care of the building.

One possibility being considered for the superintendent of education's office building is to house the Elba Chamber of Commerce offices. It could be used for chamber functions and also could be developed into an information center for the city.

The old junior high wing has been offered for utilization by the community for the crime committed. Only persons convicted of non-violent crimes will be allowed to participate in the program.

school for home football games. The recreation department also uses the field for little football games.

Mayor Moore stated that the possibility existed that a private concern is interested in the elementary building and the surrounding property. At the present time, no details are available as to just what type business would be developed.

When queried as to the availability of funds for the renovation of these buildings, Mayor Moore stated that at this time there are none, but funds will be actively sought by the city.

"Hopefully, by the end of the year some funds will become available," said Moore, "and at the same time, city officials will have made definite plans as to what is to be done with the facilities."

The city still owes between $150,000 and $160,000 on the property that will have to be paid in any event.

Moore expressed his regret that the process of getting the property turned over to the city took as long as it did.

"Vandalism has done almost as much damage to the property as the flood did," Moore said.

"Too, had we gotten the property sooner some of the renovation would not have been as costly as it will be now."

He said, "Things like air conditioners and heating units could have been salvaged had we been allowed to get to them in time."

The mayor said, "Local officials tried to get the process speeded up but, as we are well aware of, were unsuccessful in doing so."

The old school buildings and the property will necessarily be topics of discussion in future council meetings.

Letter compliments maintenance of Elba's levee

by Marvin McLwain
Editor

A letter complimenting Elba on its maintenance of the levee was received recently by The Elba Clipper.

The letter was from A. Ray Gustin, P.E., who is Chief of Soil Design with the US Army Corps of Engineers-Mobile District.

He stated that a recent inspection of the Elba levee prompted his writing the letter. He said that while talking with James Simmons, Elba's street superintendent, he was impressed with the method the city has chosen to do work on the levee.

Gustin stated that it seemed that many of the smaller entities of work on the levee are prioritized, then, when slack time or a delay occurs on street work, the crews are given a single specific task to do on the levee to fill the time.

This approach to maintenance, he stated, is far superior to the "do it all at once" methods used by some communities.

It is the "in" thing to do in Elba... becoming a candidate for mayor. Presently there are five candidates for the office and qualifying continues until July 21st. The incumbent and four challengers are vying for the position. Each one feels qualified to hold the office and we assume it is confident the voters of Elba will recognize this ability. We wish each of them luck but more importantly, we hope the people of Elba select the best person available. This community can't afford to waste four years, not in this fast moving world of today.

The Coffee County Commission is being faced with a possible redistricting. We mentioned this back before the primaries. The direction the mess will go is still as unclear as it was on that day. Every time we hear someone talking about it, the proposal (or proposals) have been altered a little bit. A couple of weeks ago we would have predicted another round of voting for commissioners next summer. At this writing we don't have the slightest idea what the commission will do about the redistricting. They may accept an offered plan... they may offer their own plan... or they may do nothing and let the courts make the decision.

The state of California is broke. This week creditors began receiving IOUs rather than checks. Taxes haven't dropped in the earthquake prone state, but the politicians are butting heads over a budget. The usual problems of all states are the same ones facing California. The dragging economy means governments already overspending are in terrible shape when the incoming taxes don't keep increasing. California fits that mold. People are flocking to California and dreams of high paying jobs, sun, shine and beautiful homes. Jobs in fact are leaving that state because of the high cost of everything from taxes to labor, real estate and government regulations. The liberal welfare payments look great to people in Alabama and Mississippi who are not expecting their high rents and property taxes. These newcomers sign up for welfare, unemployment, etc. and make a bad situation worse.

We read a daily newspaper headline which indicated "Supreme Court experts find lack of major law revisions surprising." This was following the abortion decision which didn't overturn the right to abortions. We aren't surprised, we are thankful. We have long contended the Supreme Court (and any other court) shouldn't be making laws and apparently we have nine justices in Washington who agree. The court didn't change the thinking on school prayer and civil rights laws remained basically intact. The Supreme Court has some liberals, it has some conservatives, but it also has the three latest appointments who are conservative, but are more middle of the road. We feel more comfortable staying away from either extreme. If our laws are no longer adequate, let the legislature change them, not the courts. This was one of the principals our founding fathers had in mind when they patterned our government. We see no reason to change.

The Elba Police Department, beginning Tuesday, June 30, 1992, investigated the following incidents: five criminal mischiefs, two criminal trespassings, one criminal larceny, three assaults, four DUIs, one broken windshield, one attempted suicide, one possession of marijuana, and two vehicle recoveries.

Arrests made during the same period of time were as follows: seven for speeding, three for DUI, one for driving with a revoked driver's license, one for PL, one for receiving stolen property, one for no tag, one for driving without a driver's license, two for driving while driver's license is suspended, and one for no driver's license.

Daily activity for the week was as follows:

The following is the content of Mr. Gustin's letter in its entirety (The date of the letter is June 25, 1992):

"This letter is to compliment the people of Elba and express my feelings of pride and amazement at the recovery efforts I have observed within the city. The most impressive single item which I have observed has been the radical change of maintenance and care which is now being given to the Elba levee.

I was involved in the design and rehabilitation efforts conducted by the Corps of Engineers immediately after the flood. The work was done under Public Law 84-99 which allows the Corps to restore a structure to its pre-flood condition to protect life and property. Under this law, however, the Corps was not permitted to do the routine maintenance. While the Corps, at the request of FEMA, repaired the levee breaches, restored the design levee height, and repaired the damage, the Corps was not permitted to do the routine maintenance. While the Corps, at the request of FEMA, repaired the levee breaches, restored the design levee height, and repaired the damage, the Corps was not permitted to do the routine maintenance.

In early 1991 Public Law 84-99 underwent a major change. For projects such as the Elba levee to now be eligible for Federal emergency aid, the projects have to be under an approved maintenance program. These changes to the law were presented to Mayor Fred Moore, city officials and council in a meeting at Elba City Hall in the Spring of 1991. Individual personalized place cards added to the table decor.

A specialized table, in party apparel, held the traditional two tiered wedding cake. The cake was embellished with white spun sugar icing. A cluster of white wedding bells and sprays of fresh peach and teal blue carnations interspersed with baby's breath and delicate soft green fern was atop the cake. The same decoration was repeated between the two tiers adding color and balance. The bride's bouquet enhanced the decor along with the pretty pastel napkins and serving accessories.

Synonymous with graceful good taste and style, the reception room was adequate in organization and arrangement where the wedding dinner was served buffet style. The guests helped themselves to a delectable assortment of attractive and tasty foods.

The traditional wedding cake was served by the bride and groom. Toasting the newly weds was in order, and much merriment and fun.

Bright—Boggan Wedding Held June 6th

The Dinner Cruise Boat of Captain Anderson's Marina, on Panama City Beach, Florida, was a perfect setting for a wedding.

A popular couple, Danet Boggan and Chad Bright, chose the cruise for that special occasion.

Angela Danet Boggan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Boggan of Elba, and Cecil Leigh (Chad) Bright, son of Mrs. Glenda Pouncy Bright and the late Mr. Horace Bright of Enterprise, were married aboard the Dinner Cruiser on Saturday, June 6, 1992.

Promptly at 7:00 p.m. the wedding party and guests were greeted and welcomed by the special hosts. They were directed to the stairs leading to the Promenade Deck where the wedding ceremony would take place.

Shortly, the cruiser set sail from the port into the sunset that was casting flickers of rainbow colors upon the azure blue water. The white caps were breaking, the sea gulls were in a cheerful mood sharing their best melody. All-in-all, a serene atmosphere was set for the marriage festivities.

The ceremony commenced just as the sun was setting. Simply pre-arranged, nature was in command. The most picturesque scene was available from the Promenade Deck.

The entire deck was bare of accessories other than a lone table in a strategic place. The table had the honor of being dressed in an azure blue party cloth with a white hand crocheted overlay.

The bride registrar lay open, unattended. A teal blue feather quill pen waved softly in the sea breeze. The wedding guests ceased their wandering and grouped near the table as the bride and groom took their place.

Shortly, the guest filed by obliging with his or her autograph and assembled near the railing of the cruiser.

Danet was given in marriage by her parents, but was escorted by her father.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Captain Ford. A beautiful and meaningful passage from the Book of Genesis set the background for the exchanging of the wedding vows as well as the exchanging of the rings.

Near the close of the ceremony, Captain Ford asked the guests to participate by holding hands and forming a circle around the bride couple. In a feeling of deep respect, love and awe, he reverently prayed a pastoral blessing upon the marriage of Danet and Chad.

Many good wishes and congratulations, the happy couple led the way down the stairs to the Great Lounge for a joyous reception.

The tables were dressed in white party clothes. On either end of the table were peach satin bows, and miniature wedding bells. The center of the tables had a unique peach silk rosebuds, tiny white nodding daisies with soft green English ivy. Centering the arrangement was a tall peach colored candle operated by batteries giving the party room a twilight effect. The pastel napkins and serving accessories.

At 10:00 p.m. it was anchor's away and the cruiser quickly sailed toward the port.

The wedding party climbed to the Promenade Deck for the journey and the spectacular night view.

As the guests assembled on the deck, they were given hand decorated scrolls and dainty rice bags that were made by Danet's aunts, Mrs. Ann Dempsey and Mrs. Jan Smith.

The happy couple was the last to leave the deck. The traditional throwing of the bouquet and the garter were hurriedly over, but not before they were showered with rice.

However, they made their get away to their car. The destination unknown, other than a motel somewhere in the beach area where they would spend their honeymoon.

Time was a factor. Their jobs were waiting for them in Dothan where they answered the call and are now at home.

was enjoyed.

The bride was fashionably dressed in an oyster white two piece linen suit. The sweetheart neckline and princess bodice boasted deep front darts that offered a flattering shape. Eye catching crystal pearl buttons enhanced the waist. The extended flutter sleeves gave a designers touch. The deep flared pleated hem was edged in tissue file batwing lace, giving a look of elegance. The sweeping full gathered skirt featured tiny pleats adding softness and style. Her only ornaments was a single strand of pearl beads and matching earrings. Her white satin pumps were exquisitely designed adding to their feminine style that complimented her bridal attire.

The bride carried a cascade arrangement of peach hibiscus, peach larkspurs, white rose buds, and Queen Ann's lace, interspersed with baby's breath and edged with English ivy. Artistically placed in the arrangement was a white Irish linen handkerchief hand made by Danet's great grandmother, the late Mrs. Jep Parrish.

Her head piece matched the flowers in her bouquet.

The handsome groom was attired in an off-white linen weave suit. His soft peach silk shirt was enhanced by an all-over mosaic design silk tie. A peach and white boutonniere adorned the left lapel.

The guests were entertained during the evening by the "Heirs of Love", a popular trio. Their renditions included many compositions and selections from classical, romantic, and religious themes.

The bride couple lead out and danced to their favorite love song. Others joined in and the merriment continued.

At 10:00 p.m. it was anchor's away and the cruiser quickly sailed toward the port.

The Bible

2 Timothy 3:16, 17; Revelation 22:18, 19

The Bible is divided into two parts; the Old Testament, and the New Testament.

Books	The Bible Chapters	Verses
66	1,189	31,173
Books	The Old Testament Chapters	Verses
39	929	23,214
Books	The New Testament Chapters	Verses
27	260	7,959

The Old Testament points to one great event, the birth of Jesus. God's redemptive plan for the human race gradually and progressively unfolded, and had its fulfillment in the birth, life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The books of the New Testament are divided into the life of Christ, history, letters, and prophecy. The only authentic record of Christ and His work.

Feast Or Famine

A Gallup Poll on religion in America showed that 60% of all Americans attend church at least once a month, but of those only 12% read their Bibles. Thank God for the men of the cloth, however, we aren't that good to teach everything needed just on a once a month visit.

With our election year swiftly passing by, much focus has been placed on our economy and major issues facing our nation.

Ephesians 5:16 tells us that we are to be "redeeming the time, because the days are evil."

Ask yourself today is it "feast or famine" in your spiritual life? Is God's written word an everyday exciting experience for you?

Jeremiah 15:16 "Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts."

Love, The Greatest Gift
Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal.

And though I have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

Charity suffereth long, and is kind, charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up.

Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil.

Views From THE PRESSBOX By Ricky Mularz

We went over to the new state park in Opp on Saturday to celebrate the 4th, and while Dad had to cut the outing short because of a baseball tournament, Kathy and the girls stayed for several hours and had plenty of fun, and sun. Melissa brought back ribbons for competing in the Egg Toss, Watermelon Seed Spitting Contest, Three-Legged Race and Watermelon Eating Contest, while Melanie brought home a ribbon for her efforts in eating a watermelon. Kathy? She brought home two tired little girls and a splitting headache!

13-YEAR-OLD STARS FALL SHORT AT DISTRICT

The Elba 13-year-old All-Stars had high hopes of a trip to the state tournament prior to last weekend's District tournament, but the Stars never quite got on track and had to settle for third place in the four-team event.

Elba fell to Opp in the opening game, but bounced back to eliminate Brundidge and had Opp on the ropes in the third game, only to run out of steam and suffer its second loss.

The Elba All-Stars practiced hard for over three weeks in preparation for the tournament and gave it everything they had. In the end it just wasn't to be, and this year another city will get the thrill of competing at the state tournament.

The players and coaches all put in a lot of long hours and no reason to hold their heads down. They played hard and left everything they had on the field. I was proud of their efforts and proud they had "ELBA" on their shirts.

DIXIE ALL-STARS TAKING DIFFERENT PATHS

The Elba Dixie Youth All-Stars and Dixie Minor All-Stars will both hit the tournament trail next week, and area baseball fans may find it hard, if not impossible, to watch both teams in action.

The Dixie Youth Stars will open play on July 15, in Elba, along with five other teams, while the Dixie Minors will travel to Luverne beginning on July 13, and will also join five other teams.

All the Elba fans can watch the Dixie Minors on Monday night at 6:00, but the fans will then have to make a choice, since both teams will be in action Wednesday night, and hopefully, every other night of the week.

Keep gas in the car and check the schedules, it looks like a busy week!

BABE RUTH 14-15 STARS ARE CONFIDENT CREW

If it takes confidence to win games, the members of the Elba 14-15-year-old All-Stars should be headed for a big weekend over in Opp this weekend at the District Tournament. The Elba Stars include 12 members of last year's state runner-up 13-year-old team and those players are convinced that if they play well, another trip to the state tournament is in the cards.

I don't know if the Stars have the pitching to make it through District; however, the players are convinced they have what it takes and a winning attitude is important. I guess we'll find out this weekend!

"DREAM TEAM" MUST KEEP GAMES IN FOCUS

It bothered me last week when I read in a daily newspaper that the members of the USA Olympic team are now saying that they don't want to embarrass anyone and don't want to get hurt during their quest for a gold medal. Early on in the qualifying tournament, the USA players stated they wanted to prove their dominance and wouldn't hold anything back. That thought quickly changed, and while the team should win the gold, I would feel better if they'd give it 40 solid minutes of play and let the chips fall where they may.

On July 15-21 at Legion Field Park

Elba to host Dixie Youth tournament

The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation will host the 1992 Dixie Youth Sub-District Baseball Tournament on July 15-21, at the Legion Field Park.

Teams participating in the double-elimination event will include Elba, Luverne, Highland Home, Greenville, Troy Nationals and Troy Americans.

The tournament will swing into action on Wednesday, July 15, with a triple-header. The Troy Nationals will meet the Troy Americans at 4:00, while at 6:00, Highland Home will tangle with Greenville. Elba will hit the field for the 8:00 contest and will meet Luverne.

A double-header will be held on Thursday night with the loser of the Troy National-Troy American game meeting the loser of the Elba-Luverne game at 6:00, and the winners of the same games meeting at 8:00.

Double-headers will continue Friday and Saturday night at 6:00 and 8:00, with single games set for Monday and Tuesday nights at 7:00.

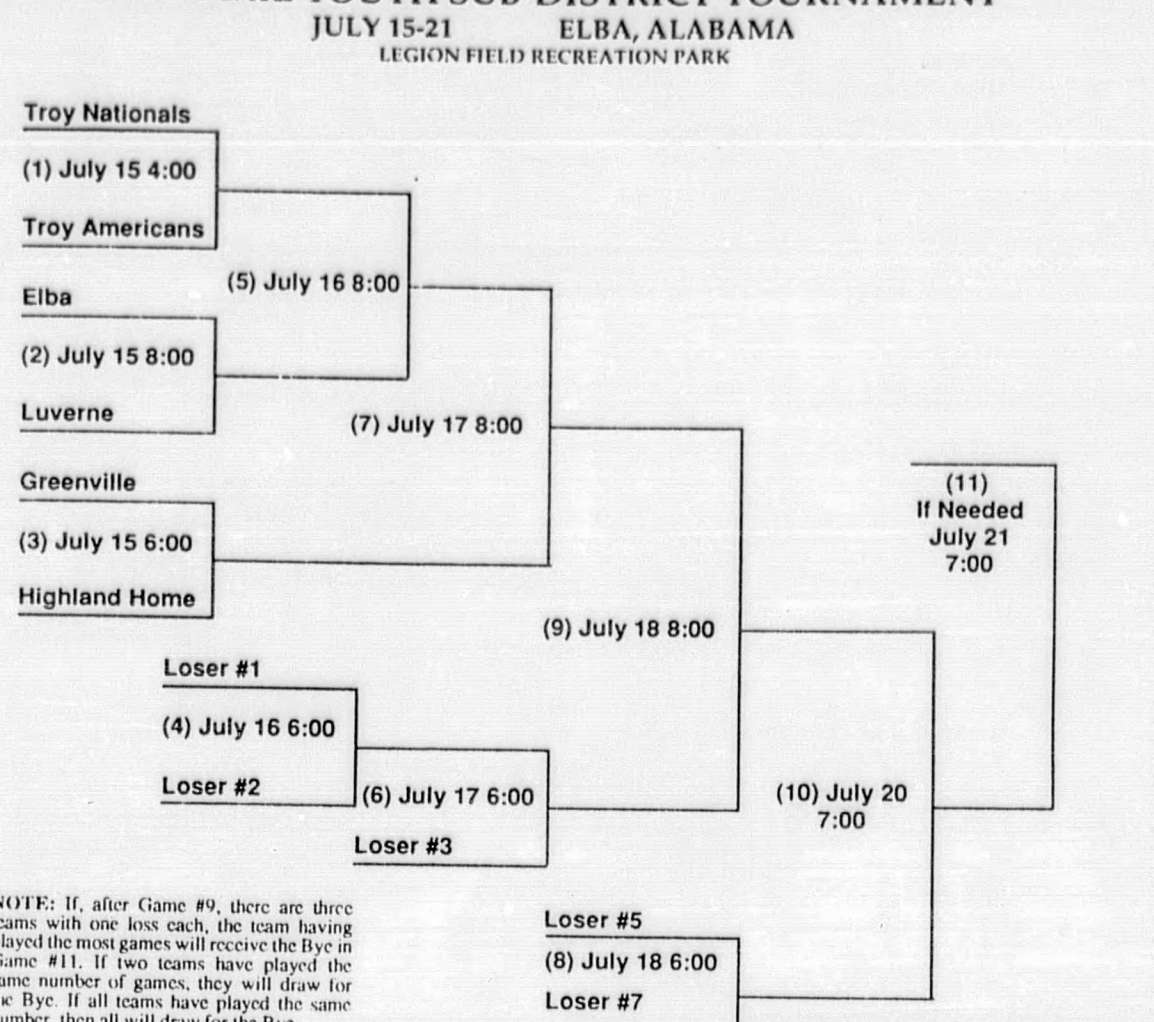

"This is the biggest field we've ever had for a Dixie Youth tournament and we are real excited about hosting this year's event," stated Elba Recreation Director Ricky Mularz. "This will be the first time Highland Home and Luverne have competed in the tournament and it should add excitement and a lot of fans to the proceedings each and every night."

"The triple-header on Wednesday night should be a baseball fans dream," added Mularz, "and the park should be filled to capacity for the games. I urge all Elba fans to come out and watch these 11 and 12-year-old baseball players in action, and also remind them that these players are young, and need the encouragement of the fans. Come on out and cheer for your favorite team, and for all the players from all the teams."

"We feel like we've got a very good team," said Elba All-Star manager Byron Hodge, "and we'll do our best to win the tournament."

"We've got some young players on the team and some players that don't have any All-Star experience,"

NOTE: If, after Game #9, there are three teams with one loss each, the team having played the most games will receive the bye in Game #11. If two teams have played the same number of games, they will draw for the bye. If all teams have played the same number, then all will draw for the bye.

added Hodge, "but we've been working hard and we expect the players to rise to the challenge once they hit the field."

"I'd say that Luverne has to be the favorite and then one of the Troy teams," admitted Hodge. "Luverne had an outstanding team last summer and returns most the starting lineup, while the Troy teams are always tough and well coached. We may not be the most talented, or best coached, but we'll play hard every second and do our best to win the tournament and advance on to district."

Members of the Elba All-Stars include Bruce Cole, Brad Holley, Doug Rainer, Joshua Hodge, Derrick Marler, Wade Parker, Toby Bragg, Brooks Croft, Jarrell Smedley, Josh Dawkins, Jason Allums, Jimmy Lunsford and Chad Moore. The manager is Byron Hodge and coaches include Rick Rainer and Alvin Cordell.

Jay Jackson got 3 hits for Opp, while Nicholas Adams, Jason Warmbles, Ryan Rhodes and Sam Catrett all added 2. Randy Dodd, Leray Smedley and Ashley Sutley all got 2 hits for Elba.

Opp jumped out to an early 5-0 lead, only to see Elba rally and chop the lead to 5-4 in the third behind the win.

Jason Mott and Chris Talley both got 3 hits for Andalusia, while Jeff Hatfield and Jay Curry added 2 each. Jay Jackson got 2 hits for Opp.

OPP 13 ELBA 7

Opp outscored Elba 7-1 in the final two innings to pull out a 13-7 win.

Opp jumped out to an early 5-0 lead, only to see Elba rally and chop the lead to 5-4 in the third behind the win.

Jason Mott and Chris Talley both got 3 hits for Andalusia, while Jeff Hatfield and Jay Curry added 2 each. Jay Jackson got 2 hits for Opp.

OPP 13 ELBA 3

Opp used a 10-run explosion in the third inning to grab the lead for good and rolled to a 13-3 win over Elba.

Elba scored 2 runs in the opening inning on a two-run home-run by Ashley Sutley and went on top 3-2 in the top of the third on an RBI single by Aaron Kirkland; however, Opp combined 2 hits with 5 walks and 5 errors in the bottom of the third and scored 10 runs to put the win on ice.

Jay Jackson got 2 hits for Opp, while Aaron Kirkland got 2 for Elba.

ELBA 8 BRUNDIDGE 5

Elba remained alive Saturday afternoon with an 8-5 win over Brundidge.

D'undray Peterson knocked in two runs in the top of the first to give the local All-Stars a quick 2-0 lead, and added 2 runs in the second when Aaron Kirkland ripped a single that drove in Paul Marsh and Randy Dodd.

Brundidge grabbed a 5-4 lead in the bottom of the second, but Elba pulled even when Leray Smedley scored on an error in the third and Elba pulled away late behind the hitting of Kirkland and Ashley Sutley to claim the win.

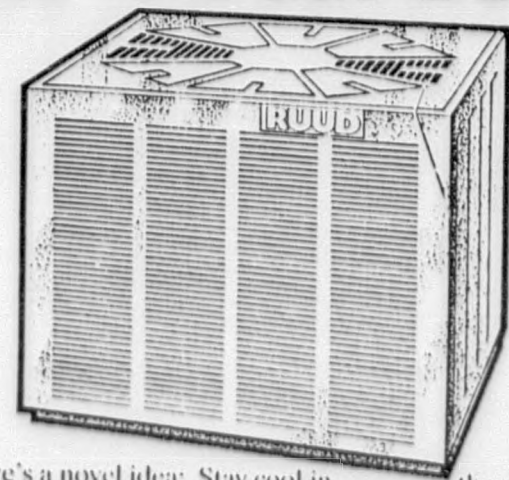

Aaron Kirkland got 3 hits for Elba, while Jake Foster and Ashley Sutley both added 2. Kenny Sanders got 2 hits for Brundidge.

ANDALUSIA 13 OPP 12

Andalusia scored 5 runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to edge Opp 13-12.

Opp jumped ahead early and led 10-5 after four innings, then owned a 12-8 lead going into the bottom of the seventh, only to see Andalusia combine 5 hits with two walks in its final at-bat to score 5 runs and claim

Dixie Minor All-Stars to battle in Luverne

The Elba Dixie Minor All-Stars will hit the road next week when they travel to Luverne to compete in the Sub-District Baseball Tournament, held at the Luverne Municipal Park.

Teams in the six-team, double-elimination event, will include Samson, Brundidge, Geneva, Luverne, Greenville and Elba.

The tournament will begin on Monday night, July 13, with a triple-header involving all six teams.

The action will begin at 4:00, with a battle between Samson and Brundidge, to be followed at 6:00 with the showdown between Elba and Greenville. The nightcap, set for 8:00, will pit Luverne against defending District champ Geneva.

Double-headers will continue on Tuesday through Thursday at 6:00 and 8:00, with single games set for Friday and Saturday, at 7:00.

"We got into Dixie Minor three years ago and have had to learn how to walk before we could run," said Elba Recreation Director Ricky Mularz, "but we feel like we will be strong at every position and will be a hard team to beat. We've got solid pitching, play excellent defense and hit the ball hard all the way down the lineup. These players are young and this will be their first time pulling on an All-Star jersey and taking the field in front of a big crowd at an All-Star tournament, so, they could be a little scared. Once we start, however, we expect the players to do what they've been taught and really play good baseball."

"This bunch of youngsters has worked hard and done everything we've asked," added Crain, "and win, lose or draw, I know they'll play well and give it everything they've got."

Members of the team include Lee Scarborough, Zack Gatlin, Eric Jordan, John Waters, Jason McKenzie, Kellen Cole, Pete Harrison, Jason Caradine, Brandon Salter, Dustin Stinson, Pete Manning, Jerry Dubose and Jep Dubose. The team manager is Joe Crain, while coaches include David Sutley and Joe Simmons.

"We never really know what you've got until you get to the first game of the tournament," said Crain, "but we feel like we will be strong at every position and will be a hard

Babe Ruth All-Stars are heading to Opp

The District 2 Babe Ruth Baseball "13-15" Baseball Tournament will be held this weekend in Opp, with four teams competing for the right to advance to the State Tournament.

Teams in the double-elimination event will include Opp, Elba, Andalusia and Brundidge.

The tourney will begin on Friday night, July 10, at 5:30, when Elba tangles with Andalusia. The nightcap is set for 7:30, with Opp hosting Brundidge. The losers of the Friday night games will meet on Saturday at 5:30, while the winners will battle at 7:30. One game will be held on Sunday at 2:00, with games on Monday set for 8:30 and 7:30, if needed.

"This has to be the youngest 13-15 All-Star team anyone has ever put on the field," stated Elba manager Robert Bowden. "We have only three fifteen-year-olds on the team, compared to twelve fourteen-year-olds. We may be the youngest team over, however, we will be a long way from the weakest!"

"We've worked hard for the past three weeks making sure we've got the right players in the right spots and feel like we are ready to take the field and see what happens," added Bowden. "We have two solid starting pitchers in Billy Copeland and Che Vaughan, and experienced pitchers in Chris Hudson, Jason Smith, Todd Grantham and Charles Bozeman. We should be able to get the job done on the mound, and throw strikes and let the defense do the rest."

"We've had to move some folks around in practice and will have some players in new positions when the tournament opens," said Bowden, "but we're confident that we can put nine excellent players on the field at any time and will play well."

Coyote Hotline

I am receiving more and more complaints about coyotes damaging livestock or crops. In order for us to establish the degree of problems that we are having, a coyote hotline has been established.

If you have had coyote problems, I recommend that you call this number, particularly if the damage is still preserved. Based on the telephone conversation, a graduate student or technician may be sent out to look at your damage. The goal of this study is to determine the amount of damage that can actually be attributed to coyotes.

The toll free number is 1-800-392-5805.

Do You Know That...

*Birds, especially starlings, robins, blackbirds, feeding in gangs in turf areas may indicate the presence of insect pests. "Critic-digging", areas dug into by moles, armadillos, raccoons, skunks, etc., may indicate the presence of grubs or mole crickets.

*Insecticide treatments on turf are more effective if done late in the day; depending on the pest, from mid-afternoon to early evening.

*Pretreatment watering for grub, fire ant, and mole cricket may determine the effectiveness of the control.

*These soil insects are more active nearer the surface if moisture is present. Irrigation after treatment is determined by the product label.

*New fire ant mounds are not visible above the turf for the first few days or weeks.

*The younger stages of most turf pests are most easily controlled.

*Spot treatment for lawn insect pests is recommended rather than treating the whole thing.

*WHEN you treat is as important as WHAT you use to treat.

*Fire ant workers cannot eat solid foods; solids are digested by the last immature stage larvae and fed back to workers and queen. This is why once the queen is out of the picture, it takes several weeks for the colony to die out—no more queen, no more immatures, no more food for workers.

ers, so they starve.

*Grubs and mole crickets prefer the same areas year after year. Reinfestations occur in areas where spring heat and moist favor egg hatch. In new areas, slopes with southern (or southeaster) exposures are most preferred.

*Green June beetle grubs crawl on their backs with legs in the air! These large grubs are easy to kill but hard to control; because of their mobility, reinfestation can occur within a season. Flooding areas with water may cause these grubs to surface; they can then be removed by hand.

*Big-eyed bugs are predators that are often mistaken for chinch bugs. Big-eyed bugs resemble chinch bugs in shape but have bulging eyes and lack the black triangle at mid-way on the outer edge of the top wings. Big-eyed bugs are important in controlling small caterpillars and chinch bugs in turf and are among our most important predators in crops.

Livestock Judging Wins Big At District

Stan Windham - County Agent

Each year young people from all across Coffee County participate in the Coffee County 4-H Livestock Judging contest. Many also participate in the 4-H Meat Judging Contest. The Meat Judging Contest is yet to come, but we recently had the District 4-H Livestock Judging in Wetumpka. There are three districts across the state, and the one for the Wiregrass includes counties as far north as Chambers County to as far south as Houston County. There are two divisions: Junior Division (14 years old and younger) and Senior Division (those over 14 years old).

We had 14 kids participating in the contest this year. They were Amanda Britt of Enterprise, Jenny Patterson of Kinston, Matthew Farris of Elba, Jeremy Bryan of Kinston, Shanna Ballard of Kinston, Joe Ballard of Kinston, Leigh Kelley of New Brockton, Matt Windham of New Brockton, Emily Bryan of Zion Chapel, Bo Boyd of New Brockton, Charles Bozeman of Elba, Reggie Britt of Enterprise, and Beverly Flowers of Zion Chapel.

Each child is eligible for individual awards and there are also team awards. The team can consist of three to four people. If you have four people on a team, you are allowed to drop the lowest score. Coffee County had three junior teams, and they placed first, third and fourth.

Those winning individual awards in the Junior Division in swine judging were Emily Bryan as high individual and Matthew Farris as second high individual. In the Junior Division in beef judging Matthew Farris was high individual, Jenny Patterson was second high individual, and Amanda Britt was third high individual. In the overall awards, Emily Bryan was high individual in the Junior Division with 364 points out of 400, and Matthew Farris was second high individual with 359 points out of 400.

In the Senior Division, Charles Bozeman was third high individual in swine judging and he was third high individual overall. In the team competition, Coffee County placed second. They will be eligible to compete in the state contest to be held the third week in July at Auburn University.

We are very proud of all of these 4-Hers and the hard work and dedication that they exhibit each year. The parents were a super group to work with. Without them, the program would not be possible. They bring their children twice a week to practice, and many of them go with to the district competition and be a part of what is going on in their kid's life. To be honest, that may be the most important part of this whole program.

If you are interested in your young person getting involved in something that is positive and can help them later on in life, something they can not only do through the high school years but there are also college teams, we will be more than glad to get them involved. Give us a call at 894-5596.

For the 4-H Pumpkin Contest, 4-Hers will need to bring their pumpkin in to the Extension Office to be weighed whenever they get ripe. The deadline for this contest will be Thursday, October 29, at 4:00 p.m.

I would like to remind you that the Peanut Festival also has a large pumpkin contest. The first place prize for the largest pumpkin entered is $100 in cash. It may be worth your trying to grow a pumpkin for that event also.

There are two 800 numbers that I think peanut growers will be interested in.

The first number is the Alabama-Florida Peanut Hotline, a service of Dow Elanco, makers of Balan, Sonolan, Loraban 15G, and Tolene. Their number is 1-800-422-8845.

The second 800 number is the National Weather Service Radio, an AUPNCT Hotline. It is 1-800-584-8595 for Southeast Alabama. It will start each day with a new weather forecast at 5:00 p.m. The broadcast will include both the five-day average and an individual forecast for each day. It may be helpful to check the forecast in the evening as you plan for your next day's activities.

Webb met with the city council Monday evening and explained his efforts to date and for the future. He explained it was cost prohibitive for Elba to enter the project alone and even more impossible for the balance of Coffee County residents.

4-H Watermelons

Each year we have a 4-H Watermelon Contest for the largest watermelon grown in Coffee County. Watermelons are truly one of the greatest crops in the south.

I would like to see our youth participate in this contest. Any 4-Her can enter simply by bringing your watermelon by the Extension Office and having it weighed. The final date of the weighing will be Monday, July 27, at 4:00 p.m.

There is a new regulation that anyone purchasing a hunting license must pass a certified hunter safety class. You will need to attend all 10 hours of this class and pass a test to become certified.

There is also a special youth hunt at Blue Springs south of Andalusia, one week prior to the normal season opening. Your ticket to this hunt is that you have received a hunter safety class certificate.

Fertilizing Fish Ponds

Need to fertilize your pond? Want to save money? Use chicken litter.

You need to be very careful as the ammonia in chicken litter can kill fish. In the early spring and late fall, use only 100 pounds of chicken litter for the fact that in August the insect population is so high here it is difficult to keep them from getting eaten up by bugs.

For the 4-H Pumpkin Contest, 4-Hers will need to bring their pumpkin in to the Extension Office to be weighed whenever they get ripe. The deadline for this contest will be Thursday, October 29, at 4:00 p.m.

I would like to remind you that the Peanut Festival also has a large pumpkin contest. The first place prize for the largest pumpkin entered is $100 in cash. It may be worth your trying to grow a pumpkin for that event also.

There are two 800 numbers that I think peanut growers will be interested in.

The first number is the Alabama-Florida Peanut Hotline, a service of Dow Elanco, makers of Balan, Sonolan, Loraban 15G, and Tolene. Their number is 1-800-422-8845.

The second 800 number is the National Weather Service Radio, an AUPNCT Hotline. It is 1-800-584-8595 for Southeast Alabama. It will start each day with a new weather forecast at 5:00 p.m. The broadcast will include both the five-day average and an individual forecast for each day. It may be helpful to check the forecast in the evening as you plan for your next day's activities.

by Ferrin Cox

The July 13th meeting of the Elba City Council opened on a sober moment as Mayor Fred Moore noted the tragic death of city employee Kenny Ware earlier in the day. The opening prayer by Councilmember John Sharpless also remembered Ware and his family.

The Elba City Council unanimously endorsed plans by Coffee County Emergency Management Director Charles Webb to work toward a countywide E-911 emergency telephone system.
